Work On Super-Bomb Speeded Up By U.S.

Hope To Explode One Next Year

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said tonight the United States should announce to the world it stands ready to abandon the hydrogen super-bomb as soon as such weapons can be "dependably outlived."

Vandenberg called on President Truman to so notify the United Nations. His statement came amid a furore of other H-bomb developments:

1. American atomic leaders were reported hopeful of exploding the world's first hydrogen bomb in 1951 or even earlier.

2. Senator Tydings (D-Md.) urged stepped-up research to make sure this country will have plans big enough to carry the H-bomb when it is invented.

3. Some congress members advocated a new attempt to bring about rigid international control of atomic energy before the United States goes to work on the H-bomb.

4. Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) said he doubts that the White House decision to develop the H-bomb would cause any change in Russia's actions—"they go ahead and do anything they want," he said.

Senator Tydings, chairman of the Senate arms services committee, raised the question of plans big enough to deliver the projected "super bomb" in protesting against any delay on a bill dealing with aeronautical research.

Impetuously, Tydings told the Senate:

"You've heard of the hydrogen bomb. Well, we'll have to have an airplane big enough to carry it. Name it the H-bomb."

Later, Tydings told newsmen he doesn't believe anybody knows yet what the size or shape of a hydrogen bomb would be. He said research on planes to carry the bomb should go forward simultaneously with work on the H-bomb itself.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican foreign policy leader, made the following comment on President Truman's fateful order for speedy development of the new type bomb:

"In view of the fact that ruthless aggression is loose in the world, I should say that the President's decision was unavoidable. Obviously it is subject to congressional referendum in respect to the appropriations involved."

"I wish the President, however, would immediately notify the United Nations of our intent and purpose to suspend all our activities in respect to mass destruction weapons the first moment the use of these weapons can be dependably outlived."

"Unfortunately, the Moscow attitude has thus far prevented this. In general, diplomatic authorities and some congress members took a gloomy view of the chances for agreement with Moscow at this stage of the east-west armaments race."

Farm Commodity
Prices Decline
4th Month In Row

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Illinois farm commodity prices declined during January for the fourth successive month, the state-federal agriculture departments reported today.

The all commodity price index for mid-January was 277 percent of the 1910-14 base, down two points from a month earlier.

Senators Toss Potato Problem To Brannan

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senators today tossed the potato problem to the Secretary of Agriculture, Brannan, saying it's up to him to decide whether to destroy 50,000,000 bushels.

Nobody was happy about the prospect, potentially an explosive political issue. But if Brannan held any hope that the lawmakers would take the problem off his hands, that hope was dashed by the Senate agriculture committee.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) said the committee discussed the matter at a closed meeting neither approving nor disapproving it but refusing to go on record "as a matter of principle."

Of course, Thomas said, if the agriculture department wants to recommend any changes in the laws which govern farm price supports and surpluses, the committee will be happy to entertain the request.

Brannan's department acquired title to a lot more potatoes than it knows what to do with by operations of the price support machinery. It has tried practically every method of disposing of them except selling them French fried in the Capitol lobbies. And it still has 50,000,000 bushels of potatoes.

Brannan laid the problem before the committee yesterday, obviously open to suggestion. He said unhappily that the cheapest way to get rid of them would be to destroy them locally, in the areas where they were grown.

Starch and alcohol plants won't have them unless the government pays the freight—a matter of $15-20,000, Brannan said. That freight cost also was standing in the way of the government's offer to sell them for export at one cent a hundred pounds, at point of origin.

The potatoes cost the government an average of $1.25 a bushel. Brannan estimated that the government stands to lose between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000 in all, on its operations on the 1949 potato crop.

Says No Place In U.S. Attack-Proof

Whitehorse, Y.T., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A fleet of planes pursued a weak radio signal U.S. Air Force C-54 and 44 men who vanished with it.

They failed to find any definite clue. It was the sixth day of the most extensive air search ever carried on in the north. Visibility was good but thick weather is expected to impede the search tomorrow.

A faint, two-minute signal on a distress call frequency kindled new hope during the night that there might be survivors of the missing plane.

The signal was picked up by radio from Edmund A. Davis of Wellfleet, Mass., aboard another C-54, which made a night flight southward from Whitehorse to Fort Nelson, B.C.

The Air Force crew flew back over the same course today, however, without hearing the signal again.

He said, however, a ground station in the area reported it also had picked up a signal on the distress frequency. The station did not say when it had heard the signals.

Senate Okays New Method Of Electing President

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A strongly, a majority of the republican senators opposed it, although its chief sponsor was one of their own number, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., of Massachusetts. Forty-six democrats and 15 republicans lined up for it on the final vote; 23 republicans and four democrats opposed it.

Various substitutes, including proposals to elect the president by straight nationwide popular vote, were turned down.

The only change in Lodge's resolution, proposed by democratic leader, Lucas of Illinois, was approved by a voice vote.

It stipulates that the winning presidential candidates must receive at least 40 per cent of the electoral vote—212.4 out of the total of 531. If no candidate got that high a percentage, the newly-elected congress would choose the winner from the two highest candidates, with each senator and House member having one vote.

Although the proposed constitutional amendment would abolish presidential electors, the present electoral vote system would be retained for coming purposes. A state has the same number of electoral votes as it has senators and representatives in congress—a system which benefits states with small populations.

Missouri Virtually
Unhurt By 2-Week
Perch On Shoal

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Salvage experts tonight examined the battleship Missouri to see how badly she hurt her bottom during a two-week perch on thimble shoal.

The "Mighty Mo" rested high and dry again, this time she was safe in the Navy yard drydock at nearby Portsmouth.

She was warped into the giant basin in late afternoon at the end of an ignominious tug tow from the spot she grounded in Chesapeake bay near the entrance to Hampton roads.

Rear Admiral Allen E. Smith, overall chief of the massive salvage effort that pulled the Missouri free at dawn, said it looked like she escaped virtually undamaged.

He thought she would be out of drydock in five or six days and certainly take her part in the big amphibious portex operation in the Caribbean later this month.

On the exact damage, he could not say until the 1,000-foot dock—used as a building basin for some of the nation's mightiest ships—had been pumped dry.

But only three of the hundreds of watertight compartments in the ship's hull were known to be ruptured.

The Missouri's sleek hull showed the signs of her tussle with the tugs, but above the waterline in the dock there didn't seem to be anything that a little paint couldn't fix up.

3-Story Building
On Lincoln Square,
Springfield, Burns

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Fire burned out a three-story building on Springfield's Lincoln square tonight.

The building housed the John J. Jobe furriers.

Little more than an hour after the blaze started about 6:30 p.m., firemen reported it was under control.

No estimate was made immediately of damage. There was also some damage to Stearn's furniture company store, just north of the Jobe establishment on Sixth street.

On the other side of Jobe's is the 14-story Illinois building, the state capital's tallest. These buildings are on the east side of Lincoln square, site of the Sangamon county courthouse, in downtown Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The president of the Illinois Federation of Labor today asked Governor Stevenson to call legislators into special session and increase old age pension checks.

AFL Heads See Farm Revolt Against GOP

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Democratic foe will be Joseph Ferguson, political league of the American Federation of Labor said today.

The AFL President William Green, growing farm revolt against Republican policies will help labor electers that Ferguson is a "great vote congress next fall to insure Taft-Hartley law repeal."

Joseph D. Keenan, the league's director, said midwest farmers have grown increasingly fearful of GOP members who are "friendly to labor," price support policy in view of fall farm price prospects and prospects for more farm surpluses.

"The same group that is responsible for the Taft-Hartley labor law," Keenan told reporters, "is trying to remove farm price supports, or undermine them, by putting over a 'farm Taft-Hartley act.'"

"The farmers know this. They are drifting back to the Democratic party where they know they have obtained assistance in the past for adequate price supports. We are finding more and more support at local farm levels for defeat of reactionary members of Congress."

Keenan predicted flatly the defeat of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in the fall can of Colorado, Taft of Ohio and elections. He said Taft's probable Wiley of Wisconsin.

Mac Wants More Forces In East

Tokyo, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The United States must throw more air, sea and land power into its Pacific line if it is to hold back Asia's communist tide, the joint chiefs of staff were told today.

Trustworthy informants said General MacArthur's highest commanders presented that view in the first full-staff conference with the chiefs of staff, now on a tour of Pacific installations.

MacArthur's officers argued that Asia must be considered part of a global military picture. They feel that the Pacific is considered a secondary area in U.S. strategy.

The informants said there were many questions from Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman, Army Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Air Force Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, and Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations.

What about Japan? Could the loyalty of the Japanese be depended upon in any future conflict?

Presumably, MacArthur's officers replied that most Japanese would stick by the United States; that Japan's communists are no immediate threat but they could be later on.

Japan Is Keystone
Japan is the keystone of a Pacific line that extends in a great arc from the Aleutians through Okinawa and the Philippines.

The briefing embraced all military activities in MacArthur's Far East command—Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines and the central Pacific islands. Informants said neither Formosa nor China was discussed. They lie outside MacArthur's command.

Also passed up was the question of U.S. bases in Japan in event of a peace treaty. That is a problem which lies in the future.

Trial Of Bolton For Shooting Of Reuther Begins

Detroit, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The men trying to convict Carl Bolton of shooting Walter Reuther today sought to paint him as an avowed political foe of the fiery union leader.

In a jam-packed courtroom, Reuther himself occupied the witness chair during much of the second day of Bolton's trial.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph A. Rashid, spearheading the state's case, questioned the CIO-United Auto Workers president closely on Bolton's union voting history.

Progress, Or Lack Of It Mentioned

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP) John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators talked contract in an air of chill reserve today while lawyers for each side tried to convince a court a mile away that the other side is refusing to bargain in good faith.

Both rounds of the long fight that has drained the nation's coal supplies were inconclusive.

After three hours of wage talks in a hotel suite, both the United Mine Workers chief and the operator spokesmen declined to say anything about progress—or its lack.

To Meet Again Today
All they would say was that they will meet again tomorrow. In view of frequent break-ups in bitter words last summer, however, even that crumb was seized upon as an encouraging sign.

Lewis came nearest of any of the principals to giving out some information.

In response to questions from a reporter he said he will reply before the Saturday deadline to a true and fact finding proposal by President Truman. He said "there isn't time" to call his union policy committee together before he answers.

Until Lewis spoke, neither side had even that much to say about the presidential proposal.

The UMW defense against unfair labor practice charges started simultaneously with renewal of contract talks with northern and western operators, broken off three months ago.

The bargaining session is the latest of an eight-months series in which Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, contends Lewis has only been going through the motions while he tried to coerce the mine owners into an illegal deal.

3 Day Week Is Issue
Principally at issue in the court case—and a bone to be well gnawed in the wage talks too—is the combination of a three-day work week and hop-skip-jump strikes that has cut the nation's fuel supply to a trickle.

The damages were sought from the UMW brought White House intervention.

Opening of the contract session at the Statter hotel showed where Lewis himself thinks the main show is. He was there in person. He had left the court chores to his lawyers.

Lewis' choice pointed up something implicit though not openly expressed throughout the court proceedings:

Man Sues Illinois
For Imprisoning
Him For 24 Years

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A Waukegan man who spent 24 years in the penitentiary filed a $250,000 suit against the State of Illinois today for wrongful imprisonment.

The damages were sought from the court of claims by James Montgomery, 56 year old negro who was convicted of rape.

Montgomery was released from prison last August after Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe of Chicago held that the man was imprisoned for "an alleged crime which never occurred."

Court of claims attaches said it was the second highest suit within their memory. The highest was one for $666,666 by a Chicago negro who charged false imprisonment. The claim was denied.

Montgomery was found guilty on a charge of raping a 62 year old woman, Miss Mamie Snow, in Waukegan in 1925.

Judge Igoe ruled that the prosecution suppressed evidence at the trial which would have proved Montgomery's innocence. A physician testified that the woman had not been raped.

Lula Kutner, Montgomery's attorney in the damage case, said the decision to file the suit was made after Governor Stevenson did not act on a request last November to indemnify Montgomery.

Kutner said Montgomery is unemployed and was forced to go on relief six weeks ago.

WE CAN'T ALLOW WEST GERMANS TO BIND THEMSELVES TO REDS

Is there any cause for alarm in the recent merger of two small rightist parties in West Germany?

John J. McCloy, American high commissioner for Germany, says no. He declares that the two groups pull little weight in the Bonn government. And he's still optimistic about the direction that regime is taking.

But it's at least possible that his good spirits are not wholly warranted. Many competent observers of the German scene are definitely disturbed by what they believe is the quickening revival of nationalism there.

The signs are numerous. For one thing, only a last-minute hitch prevented another rightist party from joining the merger of nationalist radicals. Observers think it is only a matter of time before a further pooling of rightist strength occurs.

Not long ago two Bonn cabinet ministers uttered strong nationalist comment. Their statements now have been officially repudiated by the Bonn government, but one may honestly wonder whether this action may not have been designed merely to quell rising fears over the upsurge of nationalism.

Trained reporters see West German leaders paying lip service to the western powers, but constantly using the threat of communism to wring concessions from them that make the Bonn regime stronger. They think this process will continue.

Worse, German nationalists are said to be moving toward some sort of deal with the Russian Communists. Russia, controlling East Germany, holds the key to German unity. And only the Soviet Union can restore to the Germans their former territory now in Polish hands.

Furthermore, West German industrialists, gamblers and opportunists by long tradition, are eyeing enviously the vast potential eastern markets for German products now piling up for lack of outlets. Many are said to be willing to take a chance on keeping Germany powerful and independent despite a tie with Russia.

Against these lures the western powers can only offer West Germany a place in the Marshall Plan orbit of European nations. Such a solution implies leaving Germany divided for a long time. It will be hard to make this prospect genuinely attractive.

If the West Germans are allowed to grow strong enough, they may take the bit in their teeth and turn toward Soviet Russia regardless of western wishes. In this admittedly great dilemma, we seem to have no choice but to pull West Germany toward our own circle. Should persuasion fail, we may have to take sterner steps.

But we must act firmly. A Germany either strongly independent or tightly bound to Russia is unthinkable.

Make Hot Pudding With Sauce

RICH STEAMED PUDDING—Steamed mocha-walnut pudding, made with evaporated milk, uses fruits now in plentiful supply.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA STAFF WRITER

For cold weather appetites the best answer is hot steamed puddings with a rich sweet sauce. Use evaporated milk, one of the plentiful dairy foods, to add particular smoothness and richness to these puddings. Also use one or more of the fruits now in plentiful supply: apples, cranberries, oranges, dried prunes and raisins, as well as nuts, honey or molasses.

Evaporated milk contains all of the nutrients found in whole milk in double their original amounts. And, since it doesn't require refrigeration, it can be stored on the pantry shelf until needed.

For steamed puddings, use a well buttered covered pudding mold. Be sure to butter cover, too. Use a steamer, pressure cooker, or a deep covered kettle. In using the latter place the filled and covered mold on a rack in the kettle.

Pour in boiling water to one-half depth of mold. If pressure cooker is used, follow manufacturer's directions. Cover and steam the indicated time. Replenish water if necessary with more boiling water to keep it up to the original level.

Mocha-Walnut Pudding
(Serves 8)

Three tablespoons butter, 2 3/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 cups all-purpose flour, sifted, 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon soluble coffee dissolved in 1 cup water, or 1 cup strong coffee, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 cup walnuts.

Cream butter and sugar together. Stir in beaten egg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add to butter mixture alternately with milk and liquid coffee. Stir in melted chocolate and vanilla and walnuts. Fill a 2-quart buttered pudding mold, or individual custard cups, 2 3/4 full. Steam large pudding for 1 hour. Individual puddings for 30 minutes, or until done. Serve with Ambrosia Sauce, with sweetened and flavored whipped cream, or with ice cream.

Ambrosia Sauce
(Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce)

One-half cup evaporated milk, 1 egg, 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, few drops almond flavoring, 2 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Pour evaporated milk into freezing tray and chill until icy. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually and continue to beat. Whip chilled evaporated milk until very stiff. Add flavorings, lemon juice and beat the two mixtures together thoroughly. Store in refrigerator.

The Three Most Important Books

BY HAL BOYLE
New York, Feb. 1.—(P)—Been reading any good books lately?

Time was when I used to read 50 to 100 books a year. I would start at the beginning and read them right through poetry, novels, histories, Biographies, collections of short stories—it didn't make any difference.

There was something to enjoy in all of them.

Today I have virtually given up reading books, although I still buy them out of habit and scan them out of curiosity. But I think it is getting harder and harder to find a book you can read for pure enjoyment.

Authors appear to write books now for only three reasons. They try to provide the reader a sugar-coated "escape from life," to help him to help himself to face life, or to provide something the author is sure is the ultimate truth—on subjects ranging from old bugle calls to the chemical composition of the iron curtain.

Escape From Common Sense
The "escape from life" books have become formulaized escapes from common sense. They are usually 800-to-1,200-page historical novels and the heroine has to be a bosomy semi-nude.

Other types of fiction, including the detective story, are so hamstrung with psychopathic characters you feel like you are taking a course in psychiatry, and it is difficult to tell villains from heroes.

Turn from the frictions of fiction to self-help books and what do you find? One author tells you you simply have got to relax, and the next one says, "oh don't worry, all vice people are neurotic."

This leaves the authors who are trying to prove something. One writes, "you, too, can eat caviar with the Russians," and another bounces back with a contrary tome called, "drink vodka and die!" If you read both books, you then will have to go back and read a self-help book entitled, "you don't have to be confused."

And the next result is your mind runs the risk of ending up more deformed than informed.

Read More Old Books

There is a simple compass to guide you out of this literary morass of Freud-cats and conflicting opinions—read more old books that have stood the test of time and change. My personal choices, the ones that stand me in best stead, are three: The Bible, Shakespeare's works and any collection of great poetry and the world almanac.

Lately I have found the World Almanac more and more consoling. There is something about reading a good sound indisputable fact that keeps a man's feet on the ground, and the 1950 almanac is full of facts.

POLIO VICTIM CONTRIBUTES

JOHNNY GUTMANN, two and a half year old polio victim, saved his pennies in a little piggy bank all year long in order to make his contribution to the 1950 March of Dimes campaign. He is shown making his contribution to his aunt, Miss Frances Gutmann, who volunteered as a worker in the campaign, representing Alumnae chapter of Alpha Iota sorority.

Johnny, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gutmann, 823 East College avenue, was stricken with infantile paralysis in 1948. The Morgan County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which is supported by March of Dimes funds, has helped Johnny in obtaining the specialized care he requires. He is now receiving physical therapy treatments at Washington school. His condition has shown steady improvement and much progress is being made towards his recovery.

All residents of this community who are anxious to help polio sufferers like Johnny may still contribute to the March of Dimes, even though the campaign is officially over. Donations may be sent to Johnny Gutmann, March of Dimes, 1214 Morrison Building, Jacksonville.

Total receipts received thus far in the campaign, was announced Wednesday by Chairman Jack Mathews, amount to $3,462. This sum falls far short of covering the expenses incurred by the local chapter during the epidemic year of 1949.

Mr. Mathews announced that it is not too late to send contributions to help meet the urgent financial needs to combat polio.

CARE OF THE TEETH

The Primary Teeth
Monday, February 6, is Children's Dental Health Day. The observance is sponsored by the nation's dentists in an effort to bring improved dental health to American children. The Journal Courier, in cooperation with the Morgan County Dental Society, today begins a series of authoritative articles on dental health for children. For the sake of clarity and consciousness the articles are presented in question and answer form.

What are primary teeth?
The primary teeth are the first set of teeth that a child develops. They are also known as the deciduous teeth. Normally, a child has 20 primary teeth.

When do the primary teeth appear?
Generally, the first primary tooth erupts when the child is about six months old and the set usually is complete at the age of two years. There is considerable variation in eruption time, however, especially in the age at which the first tooth appears. Some children have the first tooth as early as three months and in rare instances a baby is born with one or more teeth. On the other hand, some children reach the age of one year before the first tooth erupts.

Since the primary teeth are lost in time it is necessary to take care of them.
Yes. Care of the primary teeth is exceedingly important to later dental health. Moreover, since the child uses the primary teeth for about the first 13 years—or approximately one-fifth of his normal lifetime—it is most important that they be maintained in the healthiest possible condition so that they can efficiently perform their job of chewing food.

Should the primary teeth be filled or do such fillings have an injurious effect on the second teeth?

If a primary tooth begins to decay, it should be filled in order to check the decay process and preserve usefulness of the tooth for the maximum period intended by nature. Filling in primary teeth produce no harmful effect on the second teeth.

Must a defective primary tooth be kept in the mouth to maintain the proper space for the succeeding permanent tooth?

No. If a defective primary tooth cannot be filled properly or otherwise treated to restore it to health and usefulness, it should be extracted. After the extraction the dentist can determine by examination whether it is necessary to insert a device called a space maintainer to insure proper eruption of the permanent tooth.

Is it beneficial to lance the gums to aid eruption of the teeth?

Not as a rule. Often the lanced gums heal before the tooth erupts, and the formation of the scar tissues makes it even more difficult for the tooth to push its way through. However, if a child is having seemingly unusual difficulty in this respect a dentist should be consulted.

Large Crowd Of Shoppers Here
For Dollar Day

The Weather Man worked hand-in-hand with Jacksonville merchants Wednesday by sending a clear, crisp brand of weather for Dollar Day.

The sun had made one of its infrequent midwinter appearances by the time the stores opened at 9 a.m. Customers waited in front of some of the stores before the opening hour. Parking space filled up rapidly. Within a half hour after the stores opened, shoppers and packages were much in evidence.

The volume of shopping increased during the day. The business district hummed with more activity than at any time since before the Christmas holidays. Many out-of-town shoppers joined with the local buying public in acquiring bargains that had been advertised.

Dollar Day is a semi-annual trades event sponsored by the Retail Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. J. Goldfuss, 511 S. 9th St., Springfield,
Can Now Get A Good Night's Sleep.

"I am 76 years old and have been troubled with a kidney ailment for over seven years. I had to get up six or seven times each night and was even bothered during the day. I have tried every kidney remedy that I have ever heard of but they did very little good. I saw Rextox advertised and decided to start using it. After a short time I began to feel better and will not get up at night for relief and I now find I do not have to get up more than once a night. I believe Rextox is definitely a wonderful medicine and would recommend it to anyone suffering from the ailments that caused me so much distress."

At the present time the sale of Certa-Vin, here in Jacksonville, stands at the highest point in ITS HISTORY! Leading druggists are amazed at this immense demand and that nothing like it has ever been seen here before. However, this great sale is all due to one thing, that is, the astounding action of this remarkable medicine upon the stomach, which causes crowds to flock in from every where it is introduced.

AWFUL BLOATING

For instance, consider the amazing action of Certa-Vin in cases of gassy stomach. This is a condition that afflicts thousands. And it is a horrible condition, as any of its poor victims will tell you! Many people are so bad off they can't go to the finest restaurant and eat a meal—can't even eat the most wholesome of home-cooked food!—without being in misery afterward. They bloat and swell until they can hardly breathe. Heart palpitates wildly from gas pressure. They belch up a horrible sour substance, known as "water brash" rises into throat and mouth like a regular fountain. So bitter it almost causes STRANGULATION. Awful gas pains come in stomach and chest. The abdomen sometimes feels sore CONSTANTLY from continual gas and bloat pressure. And all night long this misery continues, so sleep is next to impossible. Some poor sufferers feel like they are about to smother every time they lie down in bed to try to sleep. They have to rise up to get their breath back. Others have such awful gas pains in chest they can't lie on EITHER SIDE. So all night long they suffer.

Truthfully it can be said, as it has been said so often: "No greater misery hath any man than he with an upset stomach!" And that is why so many people are praising CERTA-VIN. This "Amazing New Medicine" is helping thousands of sufferers such as we have described above. It helps work that awful gas and bloat out of you, reducing your gas-swollen waistline—often by inches!—in a few days' time! (Read actual statements accompanying this announcement.) It gives your body a supply of Vitamin B and Iron; thus it tones your system, builds red blood cells and gives you renewed energy. Weak, miserable people often feel like different men and women in a few days' time.

PANCAKES GO DOWN—SCORE GOES UP

The boys took the Kiwanians at their word when they promised all the pancakes they can eat. In preparation for Kiwanis Pancake and Sausage Day the sons of three members hold a tryout to see just how many pancakes they will eat on the big day. (D to R) Edward Robinson, Dick Gibson and Carson Steinheimer discover that they can easily eat ten pancakes. They plan to do just that on Monday, February 13, when the members of Kiwanis will serve pancakes and sausage from 7:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. at Cosgriff's Cafe.

Moved, Change Name? Then Register Again

There is something more to voting in the primary election April 11 than merely visiting the polls and calling for a ballot. You can't vote if you are not registered properly!

This is the time of year that the registration list is revised and put into readiness for the April primary. County Clerk George T. Douglas has called attention to the importance of registration in a series of notices in the newspapers. The notices have brought results—each day voters go to the clerk's office to see that their names appear correctly on the records.

Persons who have not previously registered must do so to vote in the April primary. This includes young men and women who have just attained voting age.

Most important, too, is whether voters have changed address since the last election. Even if they moved across the street, remaining in the same precinct, they must transfer their address to be eligible to vote.

Women who have changed their names through marriage also must re-register at the clerk's office.

If voters have any questions in their minds, or are not certain as to their status on the records, they are advised to visit the clerk's office and make certain they are eligible to vote. In that way they may avoid disappointment on primary day, when several important contests will be decided on both the Democrat and Republican tickets.

Pleads Guilty To Knife Assault

Darlene Buckner of this city was fined $100 and costs in county court Tuesday after she entered a plea of guilty to assault with a deadly weapon. She was placed on probation for one year by Judge Fenstermaker. Costs in the case amounted to $23.40. The defendant also was ordered to reimburse Minnie Woods to the amount of $50.00 for medical expenses, resulting from a knife wound which the defendant was charged with inflicting.

The trouble between the women occurred July 5 last year. Darlene Buckner had been at liberty under bond.

An early type of bicycle was known as the "boneshaker" because of its extreme vibrations, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

HEDGING PUSHES GRAINS DOWNWARD

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(P)—A few isolated contracts gained in a generally easier grain market today. Moderate hedging pushed the bulk of the market downward.
New crop wheat deliveries staged a slight rally late in the day, recovering early lost ground, on private crop reports stating there had been little improvement in the moisture situation in the winter wheat belt during the past month.

The November soybean delivery gained, reflecting a boost in parity prices under a new method of figuring parity, but the near-by deliveries eased. An agriculture department report showing large stocks of beans caused minor liquidation.

Receipts were: Wheat 10 cars, corn 118, oats 16, rye none, barley 14, soybeans none.

Billikens Turn Back Fighting Illini 62-42

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis University Billikens secured revenge for their defeat at Champaign earlier in the season by swamping the University of Illinois 62 to 42 tonight.

The bills got off to a fast start. After 10 minutes of play they had a 20 to 6 margin. Eight minutes had passed before the Illini scored their first field goal.

But by halftime Illinois was back in the game, trailing by only six points, 29-23.

It didn't last for long. After the

First-Round Tilts In Greene Tourney Show High Scores

Semi-Finals Tonight

Carrollton vs. Greenfield 7:15 p.m.
Roodhouse vs. White Hall 8:30 p.m.

Greenfield—White Hall, Roodhouse and the host five moved to the semi-finals of the Greene county basketball tournament here last night.

Carrollton, the defending titleholder, drew a bye in the meet and moved to the semi-finals automatically.

Greenfield downed Hillview 73-21 in the top-sided opener last night. Huff, freshman forward, led the winners with 15 points while Dean Cochran scored a dozen. Angle was top gunner for Hillview with ten points.

White Hall spilled St. John's of Carrollton from the tournament 39-18 in the second game. McCahery and Papp led the Maroons with 18 and 12 points respectively. Carmody and Casselton notched 13 and 12 for St. John's.

The Roodhouse Roadrunners eliminated Eldred from the tournament by a 73-21 margin in the final game. Conterman and Ransom racked up 12 and ten points for Mason Campbell's workers while Howland scored nine for Eldred.

Officials for the tournament are Fraser and Plummer of Alton.

Bob Jones Named Golfer Of Century By Writers Poll

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, Atlanta's "boy wonder" who fashioned an unparalleled grand slam, took his place beside other sports giants of the century today as the greatest golfer of the age.

The fluid-swinging Georgian, who won every major championship from one to five times and then retired at 28 while at his playing peak, was an overwhelming choice in the Associated Press' fifty-year poll.

He thus joined three others as the greatest in their specialties through the first half of the twentieth century: Jack Dempsey, boxing; Jesse Owens, track; Jim Thorpe, football, and George Mikan, basketball.

In the golf balloting, no one else was close to this fabulous amateur shotmaker of the golden twenties who climaxed a spectacular career in 1930 by winning four top championships in the space of four months.

Beginning with the British amateur title May 31 at historic St. Andrews, Jones went on to capture the British Open at Hoylake, the U. S. Open at Interlachen and the U. S. Amateur at Merion Cricket Club in Ardmore, Pa.

It was a sweep unmatched on the links before or since. The sport's wise men say it probably never will be achieved again.

The stocky, boyish southerner received 293 of the 392 votes cast by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters, leaving 99 to be scattered among seven other celebrities of the links.

Touring Newsmen Report ECA Doing Well In Europe

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Thirteen American newspapermen returned from a three-week tour of Europe today largely in agreement that the economic cooperation administration is doing a good job.

The editors arrived at New York International Airport, Idlewild, Queens, from London. They had visited Great Britain, Germany, Italy, and France, where they met government and ECA officials.

Edward E. Lindsay of the Democrat, Ill., Herald and Review, said the ECA's American administration "is particularly good in England and Italy." He said 90 per cent of the American newspapermen agreed the ECA is doing a good job.

Lindsay reported a "trend to the right" in countries aided by the Marshall plan.

C. B. Latta, publisher of the Sharon, Pa., Herald, said he was converted to the program.

"Before I started on this trip I was very skeptical, but what I saw soon convinced me that I was wrong," he declared.

HILL SLIDES 1,000 FEET

Hiltons, Va., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A freak landslide today transplanted nearly six acres of rich top-soil from the top of a ridge to the banks of the Roanoke river. The great mass of land slipped about 1,000 feet, but its contour of earth and trees remained virtually intact.

Harold Paulson, Michigan State's hockey coach, was a star puckman for the University of Minnesota.

visitors hit the first basket of the second half to pull within four points the Billikens turned on the steam again, leaving Illinois far behind.

Joe Ossola sparked the St. Louis drive before the 10,632 fans with 15 points. Walt Kersulis and Wally Osterkorn shared honors for Illinois with nine points apiece.

Demaret, Snead Favored In Tuscon Open Golf Tourney

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 1.—(AP)—One of the wildest golf scrambles of the year is predicted for the $10,000 Tucson Open which starts tomorrow.

Practically all of the 137 pros are convinced they must shoot par to even qualify for the final two rounds. They won't even guess how low they will have to go to win.

If there are such things as favorites they are Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead.

But the fans and pros who pick them are quick to add that they can easily be upset by two dozen or more other entries.

The 72-hole event is being played over the short and easy par 70 El Rio course.

In today's pro-amateur event, 54 golfers smashed par.

Chandler Hae'er, Portsmouth, Va., and Johnny Revolta of the host club tied the competitive course record by banging out eight-under par 62s.

Snead, U. S. Open champ, Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Ormond Beach, Fla., and Tax Consover, Wichita, Kan., were in the hole with 64s.

A total field of 156 players start out tomorrow.

ARRESTED ON MORALS CHARGE

Dallas, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Dallas Detective P. W. Lawrence said today Harry Revel, Hollywood song writer, was arrested here and named in two morals charges. Revel is free under $10,000 bond. Charges of seduction also named three teen-age boys.

FUTURE HOME OF ILLINOIS COLLEGE BLUEBOYS

A large and handsome Physical Education Building is at prospect on the Illinois College campus, with President H. Gary Hudson's announcement that work is expected to start this spring as soon as weather permits. The architects' plans call for a gymnasium with a seating capacity of more than 3,000, together with many other features. The new gym has been designed as one of the finest in college athletic circles throughout Illinois.

Stan Spotts Inks New Pact With Senators

Stan Spotts, ex-Jacksonville high school athlete and now the property of the Washington Senators, has been signed to a new contract with the American League baseball team and will report to a minor league club in New York this spring.

Spotts, who played two months with Orlando, Fla., of the class D Florida state league last season, has been in the southland for the past month attending Scout Jack Rossiter's baseball school. Spotts was originally signed by Rossiter, a Springfield talent hunter, last summer.

A shortstop, the 19-year-old youth, enjoyed mild success with Orlando last summer and looked good enough to be awarded a new contract. He will return to Jacksonville for two weeks before reporting to his new boss.

Francis Bunch, Ralph Race and Gene Todd have also been attending Rossiter's school.

Charles Due, who played ball for Jacksonville high and Illinois College, was signed to a Senator contract with Spotts last summer and will report to a training camp sometime this month.

YMCA Basketball Meet Starts Next Week In DP Gym

Plans for a double-elimination basketball tournament involving independent quintets in Jacksonville and vicinity were announced by basketball Chairman Lee Ogle last night.

Seven teams from the Y league will compete in the meet plus the Jacksonville Amvet five that will round out the eight-team program. Only the National Guard, who was a Y league member before, will not see action in the tournament.

The double-defeat affair will call for 14 games before the champion is decided. Played at the David Prince gymnasium, first round games will be run off Feb. 8th and 9th. Tourney wind-ups are scheduled at DP the next week, Feb. 13, 15 and 16.

Three games will be played the first three nights of the tournament. One game will be played each night on the 15 and 16. Officials are seeking independent five to play preliminaries these nights.

Teams entered include the league champion Winchester VFW aggregation, Farmers Auto Sales, Franklin, White Hall, Chapin, Sunbeam Bread, Winchester Hot Shots and the Amvets.

Individual awards will be given the first ten players on the championship team while the runner-up will be awarded a single trophy.

Bluffs Tamps Liberty 54-44

Liberty — The high-flying Bluffs Bluejays stretched their win skein to two in a row here last night, downing the Liberty hosts 54-44.

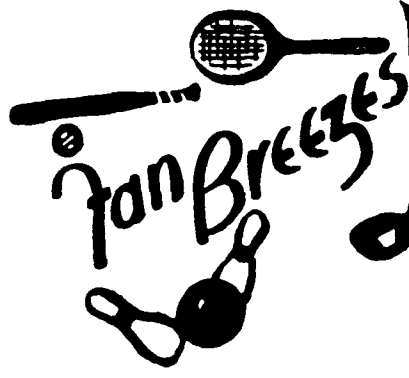

Bluffs led 29-20 at halftime. Officials for the game were Ernie Savage, Jacksonville and Bill Caldwell, Waverly.

TRINITY BOYS WIN 26-21

The Trinity Boys club quintet trounced the Trinity Theatre 26-21 in an independent game at Lafayette gymnasium last night.

BEVIN SEES POPE

Vatican City, Feb. 1.—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin called on Pope Plus XII at the Vatican tonight. The pontiff received Bevin in his private library. They talked 25 minutes.

By Bob Morris

The goal of half a century will finally be realized by the Illinois College athletic department when work begins on the new gymnasium this spring. The administration is to be congratulated for its "stick-to-it-iveness" that is making actual construction a reality instead of a paper-and-pencil dream.

Only one blight remains at the Hilltop campus concerning its athletic program in the new gymnasium. Three basketball players who helped put Al Miller and his Blueboy squad on the basketball map may graduate this spring, although they still have one year of eligibility.

Don Longer, football captain and steady cage performer for the past three years, is sure to leave this spring (if not sooner). Bill Shouse, all-conference guard last season, and Bob Murrin, 6-7 center, also plan to receive their sheepskins due to an accelerated scholastic schedule this year.

Yet in Bob Grove, Bill Gross, Dave Billings and Barney Vilk, Miller will have the nucleus of another great cage crew that may rank with his present club so far as conference prestige is concerned. Then, too, the facilities offered by a new, modern gymnasium may attract several top-flight prep stars to the local college in the next two years.

The Pike County Republican, unusually redundant Pittsfield semi-weekly news vendor, commented on the Pittsfield-Griggsville "tall-tale" basketball game this week: "Somewhere the sun is shining. . . . That somewhere is Griggsville. Pittsfield fans are feelin' mighty low."

"Playing a fine brand of ball; just a trifle better than the best Pittsfield could muster. Griggsville's Tornadoes handed Pittsfield a 37-32 defeat Friday night."

That settles the sectional issue so far as this corner's concerned. Quincy should have little trouble from either the Pittsfield or Virginia regional winner. As for Griggsville or Pittsfield winning the Pike county regional, we'll pitch our tepee in the Mt. Sterling camp. Maurice Root's Green Hornets will pull the shades on either Pike county club in regional play.

The Mercedosa district and Virginia regional winners? We spect the district will be stronger than the regional in these parts, and wouldn't be a bit surprised to see the little tourney champ carry off the honors at Virginia — unless Jacksonville high is on the road to rehabilitation.

Griggsville scuttled Winchester, who was coming up for a while, 41-33 on the Tornadoes' own court Tuesday night. The Wildcats led 17-14 at halftime.

A Scott county basketball fan reports that Donnie Lashmett — of the ball playing Lashmetts — is a bright spot in Winchester's athletic future. The little tow-head scored 26 points in 11 minutes of play during one game and dunked 24 more tallies in another 11 minutes the following night. Mathematically inclined, our Winchester friend points out that this totals 50 points in just 22 minutes of basketball — he'd like to see the youngster play a complete game.

REDS COIN 'NEW' PHRASE

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Communist daily worker used a new phrase today to describe the United States: "the warfare state."

The phrase was printed in a story about President Truman's decision to proceed with work on the hydrogen bomb.

Work On I. C. Gym To Begin Soon; Seating Capacity For 3,000

Construction on the new Illinois College Physical Education Building will begin in the spring as soon as weather permits, it was announced Wednesday by Dr. H. Gary Hudson, president of the college.

The building will be erected on the southeast corner of Mound and Lincoln avenues, directly across Mound avenue from Baxter Hall. It is expected that the main unit will be completed in time for use next winter.

While announcement of the building was made at the college commencement last June, architects were unable to complete plans in time for breaking ground in the fall. The Board of Trustees of the college believes that construction during the summer months, as now planned, will insure better workmanship and less cost than would have been possible had the building been erected during the winter.

Facilities to be provided in the new building will give the college the opportunity to expand its student health and physical education program to a degree never possible with the old gymnasium. It will fill an urgent need for a modern playing floor, individual exercise rooms, and physical education classrooms. With it is completed will be recognized by having their names listed on a plaque placed at the entrance. Those who contribute funds for specific rooms or purposes will have appropriate inscriptions designating the rooms. Some donors have already chosen specific places for their gifts.

Parking space will be provided to the south, or rear, of the building.

All persons who have given $150 or more for the building by the time it is completed will be recognized by having their names listed on a plaque placed at the entrance. Those who contribute funds for specific rooms or purposes will have appropriate inscriptions designating the rooms. Some donors have already chosen specific places for their gifts.

The old gymnasium, built in 1932, the second oldest college gymnasium in Illinois, has long outlived its usefulness for physical education. It consists only of a small playing floor with no provision for spectators.

The college long ago would have been compelled to abandon intercollegiate basketball games, were it not for the friendly cooperation of other institutions in Jacksonville which have permitted it to use their gymnasiums," Dr. Hudson said.

The Physical Education Building will be dedicated to the 1,800 alumni and former students of the college who participated in the five wars in which the United States has been engaged since 1829, when the college was founded.

Contractor To Be Chosen W. E. Hafner and J. E. Hafner of Quincy are the architects. A contractor is to be selected after detailed specifications have been received.

Plans call for the construction of the building in three units. Sufficient funds have been received from generous alumni and friends of the college to build the main section which includes the gymnasium. The second unit, consisting of the entrance section with classrooms and offices, and the third unit containing rooms for instructional purposes, will be erected as rapidly as funds are available.

The exterior of all three units will be of red brick to match the prevailing architecture of the campus. Many Features In Building The main unit, 148 feet wide along Mound avenue and 210 feet deep along Lincoln avenue, will contain:

1. Gymnasium, with a standard basketball court 50 by 94 feet.

2. Folding bleachers to accommodate 3,010 spectators. A passageway of six feet will be provided between the front row of the bleachers and the basketball court, and another of 12 feet between the end walls and the court, insuring ample aisle space. The interior of the gymnasium will be free of pillars and posts which would otherwise obstruct the view.

3. Two practice basketball courts 48 by 86 feet, when the bleachers are rolled back.

4. Three handball and squash courts.

5. Room for rifle range, archery, and fencing.

6. Locker rooms for 466 men students, including 62 for members of athletic teams, and lockers for 216 women students.

7. Training room and supply room.

Classrooms In Second Unit The second unit, to be constructed when the necessary funds have been received, is the entrance section, to be erected on the north or front of the gymnasium. This section is 128 feet long on Mound avenue and will project 50 feet from the gymnasium toward that street. It will contain:

1. Two classrooms.

2. Offices of the physical education department.

3. Check room, concession booth, ticket windows, and public telephones.

4. Room for coaches and officials.

5. Public lavatories.

The third unit, to be constructed last, will join the south side of the gymnasium and will contain:

1. Visual education room.

2. Wrestling and physical conditioning room.

3. Laundry and storage rooms.

4. Lockers for 38 players of visiting teams.

Provision has been made for the future addition of a fourth unit, consisting of an indoor swimming pool, to be constructed when funds are available.

More than 80 guests had to flee hastily-clad into sub zero cold.

Norwegian Wins Preliminaries In Ski Tourney

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Simon Slattvik, a locomotive engineer from Norway, sailed off the 65-meter intervals Hill three times like a bluebird today to win the combined jump, opening event of the 1950 world ski championships.

Garbed in a dark blue uniform, the Norwegian Casey Jones who will be 33 this summer, zoomed 209, 220 and 223 feet—631, 67 and 68 meters—in almost flawless style despite a left eye half closed by bumps suffered in a previous fall. His point total was 231.

That gave him a 7.6 point lead over Per Samnerud, Norwegian bus driver and the 1949 Holmenkollen champion. Samnerud had jumps of 213, 213 and 212 feet for his total of 223.4.

In fact, the first five places were swept by the Norwegian ski experts, with Crosby Perry-Smith of Gunnison, Colo., taking ninth—best of the Americans.

The second half of this combined event, the 18 kilometer (11 mile) cross country race, will be held Friday at Rumford, Me.

Perry-Smith, who had been figuring to finish highest of the Americans, had leaps of 207, 206 and 211 feet with 212 points.

South Jacks Spill Franklin Kid Five 38-21

Merle Wade's South Jacksonville grade quintet spilled Franklin's kid five 38-21 in the new local gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Kemp, South Jacksonville guard, was high netman for the game with 18 counters. Smith scored 12 points for the invaders.

The South Jacksonville seconds won the score-raiser 23-14.

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY: Soon after taking the job of literary secretary to the popular writer "Jo Palgrave," really Mrs. Muriel Hallock, Alice Pine secures a tension between Muriel and her husband Brent, whom village gossip describe as rather worrisome. However, Alice decides not to pry into the private lives of the family. She does, however, like their four-year-old adopted son Rick. Brent infatuated Alice with his ardent attitude, yet Alice rather plies him. He seems defeated, at least ends, when the family has a long conversation with him on the beach. That night a storm breaks. During the thunder and lightning, Alice hears a scream.

IX

ALICE PINE jerked up in her bed. She sensed a cold crawling fear along the back of her neck. The screams continued. They were awful, like the cries of some small animal in torment. She listened, bewildered and very frightened. Afterwards, she never knew why she had not thought instantly of Rick.

Alice flung back the covers and was out of bed in one quick motion. Her dressing-gown lay over a chair. She grabbed it, stumbled over her high-heeled mules, but did not bother with them.

What had happened seemed clear to her now. The crash had brought Rick awake in terror. And evidently neither Muriel nor Brent had heard him as yet. Alice's feet padded swiftly along the hall.

In the squarish house the hall made a right-angle turn before it reached the Hallocks' rooms. Alice went around this, and stopped dead.

Brent Hallock, tall, rather gaunt-looking in a gray robe, stood just outside of Rick's door. Around his knees, clutching at the robe and howling pitifully, Rick moved in a kind of frenzied dance. "Take it easy, little fellow,"

Brent was saying, softly. "It's all right. It's—"

He looked up then—against his will, it seemed. "Oh, I—er, you, Alice? Little trouble here. This guy's either had a nightmare or the thunder scared the heart out of him. Both, probably."

But his eyes did not meet hers and crimson sprang into his dark cheeks.

ALICE drew back, self-conscious now at being seen bare-footed and disheveled. "Well, I heard him and I thought you hadn't. Can I do anything?"

"No. He'll be okay in a moment," Brent looked at her levelly, at last. And he might have been trying to hold her eyes up, off the floor, while his foot made its first surreptitious movement.

Rick had stopped dancing. Now, still sobbing, he clung to Brent's knees. Brent patted his shoulder. "No," he repeated. "Run along back to bed, Alice."

Again the foot, carefully extended, moved.

"I—" Suddenly Alice felt her body go rigid. "Y—yes. Yes, of course."

She turned and fled, in a virtual panic. Hot things roiled behind her eyes and there was a horrible, queasy feeling at the pit of her stomach. She was afraid, indeed, that she might be actively sick.

Brent's foot had not been entirely successful—in pushing the small, mean-looking whip under the edge of the hall rug.

ALICE slept but little for the rest of that night. The memory of the dismaying scene lay on her mind like a weight. Now that the first shock had passed, she felt a growing anger and resentment. That child was scarcely four years old. No matter what he may have done, such an extreme punish-

Primrose In Thrilling Concert At New Chapel

By Joachim Stenzel
The appearance of William Primrose at MacMurray College will remain one of the great memories of music lovers in and near Jacksonville for several reasons: It was the first series concert to be presented in the new chapel, in a setting that combines beautiful architectural lines with excellent acoustics—and it introduced the first and greatest vi-list of our day in a concert that most listeners must needs have been quite a revelation. For they knew the viola mainly as an instrument for ensemble work, particularly string quartet and orchestra. And to hear it played as a solo instrument in its own right, in music that demands gifts of virtuosity seldom encountered even among violinists, was an unforgettable experience.

Beethoven Work Outstanding
Mr. Primrose began with a Handel concerto arranged by John Barbirolli, a work of restrained dignity and beauty. This was followed by Beethoven's Nocturne—based on the "Serenade" for string trio and scored for viola and piano by Beethoven himself.

In the first movement we find the musicians drawing near to the tune of a marching song; and there follows a wealth of lovely and melodious pieces, all designed to soothe the fortunate recipient of all the serenading.

Outstanding among these are the "Adagio Scherzo," with its passages alternating between the two traditional moods of melancholy and exuberant humor, in which the violist made his instrument sing as if he had never heard a viola before. At the end the first march is played and the first movement is played with the withdrawal of the serenaders.

Throughout the program, incidentally, Mr. Primrose was masterfully assisted by David Stimer at the piano; and in the Beethoven piece it would be altogether wrong to speak of accompaniment, because the work is rather a duet in which the two instruments claim an almost equal share. Mr. Primrose encored at the half with a "Larghetto" by Beethoven.

The second half of the program was dedicated to music of more recent years; and here the violist had uncounted opportunities to demonstrate his almost unbelievable virtuosity in the traditionally violinistic art of the harmonics, double-stops, left-hand pizzicato, etc.

Mrs. Primrose played the "Concerto" by the contemporary French composer Jean Rivier, a very tuneful work reminiscent of Saint-Saens; and after an amazing rendition of a medley of Sarasate tunes arranged by Zimbalist was called back again and again for more, playing Kreisler's "Liebesleid" ("Pangs of Love"), Benjamin's "Cradle Song" and "Jamaica Rumba," and introducing to a surprised and grateful audience the movement of the Viola Concerto by Bela Bartok, which the late Czech composer wrote especially for Primrose.

Mrs. Evelyn Siebert, also of Springfield, held in connection with the Waverly Implement store burglary, appeared in court with Public Defender Ormiston, who told the court that she had no previous criminal record.

Probation Opposed
In opposing probation, State's Attorney Hall informed the court that Mrs. Siebert in no way admitted participation in the burglary until the sheriff had "made the case."

In granting probation Judge Smith told Mrs. Siebert that he was granting probation solely because from the report he had received she had "worked to earn money."

The judge added that "you made a mistake in trying to get easy money and the officers arrested you."

Judge Smith ordered Mrs. Siebert to stay out of taverns and that if she violated her parole she would be brought into court and sent to the woman's reformatory at Dwight.

He also ordered the woman to report to Probation Officer Henri Servais by mail each month and to report to him in person every four months.

The judge asked Mrs. Siebert if she ever went to church, and when she answered in the affirmative, he stated "I suggest that you start going back to church."

He also ordered her to pay all court costs and to make restitution to the owners of burglarized places for any damage done.

New Y. Program, "Learn By Doing," State Government

The Jacksonville Hi-Y and Beta and Delta Tri-Hi-Y Clubs are to participate in a "Youth and Government" program which is starting in Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y groups all over central Illinois. Sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., its purpose is to interest youth in use and functions of state government and provide a way and a stimulus for them to learn by actually going through the motions of the legislature.

Each club is to find some situation in its own community that it feels should be corrected. The members are to hold discussions on the problem, call in leading citizens of the town to give their opinions, have forums, endeavor to appear on the radio and use other means of publicizing their theme.

They will then develop a bill on the subject, which their selected representative will carry to a two day mock legislature meeting at Springfield in April, when they will be housed in the city's hotels. All the state officials will lend them their aid, while the governor will spend his time with the "boy governor."

The delegate will then report back to his club concerning the fate of his bill.

Before going to Springfield the delegates will spend one day in March at a legislative training school at Millikin University, where they will attend sessions on the handling of bills in the legislature, how the committees work, how the bills are voted on and how they become laws. State officials will be there as well as professors.

Part of the expenses for the project will be paid by the club, part by the delegate himself and part by the Y.M.C.A. Delegates must be juniors or seniors in high school. Dr. C. P. McClelland, who is a member of the Illinois area youth and government committee, and Paul Hartman, serving on the local arrangements committee with the Springfield and Decatur Y. secretaries, are doing work on the project. Illinois is the 14th state to take it up; it has been going for about 15 years in New Jersey.

A HOG'S PEDIGREE IS IMPORTANT

By the Journal Courier farm editor
A guy who somehow makes a living making surveys says a lot of Americans don't know their grandmothers' maiden name. A purebred hog is much better posted, for he has a pedigree which plainly states an essential information about his grandfolds.

The photograph snapped at the H. Y. Potter & Son Duroc auction proves that animal sales specialists are mighty interested in ancestors. As Bob Anderson, left, urges Perfect Dolly around the ring, so possible bidders can view her from all angles, the two auctioneers and the breed association representative study Perfect Dolly's birth certificate and her genealogy.

Chalmers Rinehart, front, representing the United Duroc Record association of Peoria, the auctioneers are Carman Y. Potter of Jacksonville and that veteran ring crier, Guy Pettit of Bloomfield, Iowa.

The pedigree told them that the well-constructed Duroc gilt was born on March 2, 1949 at the George W. Pagel farm near Rochester, Minn. She had 13 brothers and sisters; the proud parents were Perfect Blend and Duchess Dolly. Her grandfolds were Duroc and Duroc. She was purchased by the Potter and bred to Star Blend on Nov. 2, 1949.

The Lambert Stock Farm herdsman of Charleston, Miss., liked her looks, plus the fact that her pigs will carry a double factor of the Duroc breeding exemplified by Star Blend, the 1941 Indiana grand champion. Perfect Dolly has been transported to her new home, away down south, and she's due to farrow around Feb. 22.

Older pedigrees were often much longer. They often went away back to the seventh generation; it took a piece of paper about as big as a blanket to hold all the writing. But modern recording associations use special machines developed for the purpose by International Business Machines. The three-generation pedigree can be recorded and checked for errors in short order and is now generally accepted everywhere.

The living theatre is the most vivid and convincing means of which the aspirations of man can be expressed; because the theatre as "thing done" carries tremendous convictions; and because the theatre of the country reach a great variety of audiences; and finally through this joint movement each individual effort is enhanced by the strength and purpose of all.

The Hilltop Players chose "Of Mice and Men" because of its sensitive portrayal of the rights and dignity of man—both white and negro. For several weeks the cast has been in rehearsal in preparation for the presentation on Friday, March 3 in the Jacksonville high school auditorium. Veteran actors Harry La Tier and Joe Baker take the leading roles. Supporting roles are taken by Hilltoppers Richard Robertson, Robert Kunkel, Bob Carpenter, Dean Hocking, Bob Rossio, and John Wendorf. The only woman's part is taken by Jo Tarro. George Florence, a newcomer in Hilltop productions, is adding his talents to the others to make this play a true to life picture of human beings.

Spring must be on its way. "Along about the first of February farmers begin getting ready for the planting season. When they start talking about varieties and the seed oats supply spring can't be far away," he observed.

Mr. Garlich tells inquirers that he considers Clinton 11 the best variety for this area. There's a good supply of seed in Morgan and surrounding counties with reported sales varying from $1.20 to $1.50 a bushel.

Thirteen Morgan county farmers raised 265 acres of Clinton 11 oats last year. Many bushels were certified. Yesterday one grower received an inquiry from a seed firm wanting to know if a carload of the new variety could be assembled here for shipment to Maine.

An Illinois Selection
Clinton 11 is an Illinois selection from the original Clinton, a variety which came to the rescue when the helminthosporium blight practically wiped out the Victoria-Richland crosses, Vicland, Tama and Boone.

The new selection is so highly regarded that its parent is now no longer eligible for Illinois certification.

The new variety appears to be as resistant to disease as its ancestor, but ripens more uniformly and does not have the variation in plant height which caused some farmers to frown on the original.
